Final Project

Select a Google research dataset. There are (currently) about 163 (as of January '23) datasets to choose from. They can be found at:
https://research.google/resources/datasets/
Or by Googling, "google machine learning datasets"
Send me the title of the dataset you have selected, along with the type by 2/16/23.
Everyone must select a unique dataset.
If someone else has already selected the dataset you selected, you will need to select another dataset.

Develop a machine learning program to learn something about the dataset that you select.

Deliverables:
PDF Format
The title of, and a description of the dataset you chose.
An abstract, or brief summary of your work.
The machine learning program that you created to learn something about the dataset.
The output of your program.
An analysis of the output from your program.
A description of how your program learned something from the dataset.
